DAMAGE SUITS ARE SETTLED BY AGREEMENT

Two Emmitsburg girls, Miss Elizabeth Sanders and Miss Loretta Sanders, were awarded damages totaling $1,800 in a compromise of their trespass suits allowed by the Adams county court Saturday.

The suits were brought for the two women, both minors, by their father, George Sanders, Emmitsburg, as a result of an automobile accident at 1:30 a.m. December 1, 1935, seven miles west of Fairfield in Liberty township. The girls were riding in a car driven by Clyde W. Musselman, Fairfield, at the time of the crash. The Musselman car struck a parked truck owned by Green Spring dairy, Baltimore. Both women were injured.

In the compromise permitted by the court following hearings Saturday, Elizabeth Sanders was awarded $150 and Loretta, $1,650.

Three Witnesses

According to the compromise, two judgments were entered in the case of Loretta. In the one judgment, Clyde Musselman will pay $726.74 and the Green Spring Dairy, $423.26. In the other, Musselman will pay $315.97 and the dairy, $184.03.

Two judgments were also entered in favor of Elizabeth. In the one, Musselman will pay $632 and the dairy, $3.68 and in the other Musselman will pay $88.47 and the dairy, $51.43.

Dr. Bruce N. Wolff, who testified as to the condition of the girls' health, and the two Emmitsburg girls were the only witnesses to testify Saturday. Elizabeth suffered an injury to the nose and an injury to the left eye while Loretta suffered a fracture of the left leg, a contusion of the left malar region and a laceration of the left upper eyelid when she was thrown from the car by the impact.

Attorney John B. Keith was named master in the divorce action of Kathryn Arline (James) Groft, McSherrystown, against Lawrence Robert Groft, McSherrystown, in court Saturday.

JUSTICE MUST ACT PROMPTLY

Clement A. Sneeringer, 545 East King street, Littlestown, got backing Saturday on his contention that if a justice of the peace does not mail out a notice of arrest on time there is no arrest to be made.

Sneeringer was arrested by state police on a charge of speeding at 60 miles an hour on May 9. On May 10 the state policeman laid the charge before Justice of the Peace Leo Storm, Bonneauville.

Notice of the motor code violation charge was sent to Sneeringer on May 19. He appeared before the justice and argued that the notice wasn't legal. The justice held that it was and then the matter was appealed to the Adams county court.

In an opinion handed down Saturday, the court held that the justice of the peace failed to send out the notice within seven days of filing as required by the motor code and granted the prosecution brought by Sneeringer to dismiss the proceedings.

The costs were placed on the county.

CHRISTIAN JEW IS SPEAKER AT UNION SERVICE

The Rev. Joseph I. Herschkowitz, a Jew who was converted to Christianity by the example of martyred Christian pastors held as fellow prisoners in the German concentration camp at Dachau was the speaker at the weekly union vespers service in Christ Lutheran church here Sunday evening.

After telling of his own experiences under Nazi persecution that stripped him of all his possessions and placed him in the dread Dachau, the Rev. Mr. Herschkowitz told of the help he received from converted Jews through the American Board of Missions to the Jews. He spoke Sunday evening as a representative of that Mission and told of its world-wide work.

"I do not come to preach hatred," he told his audience as he opened his address. "As a Christian, I could not preach hatred." The speaker, whose Gentile Austrian wife joined him in this country early this year after being separated by the war for more than seven years, said he was born an orthodox Jew but became an atheist during World War I.

Hell Is Worse
The persecution of Austrian Jews under Hitler was described and the Rev. Mr. Herschkowitz told of his arrest on the Day of Atonement, November 10, 1938, and of being shipped in cattle cars to Dachau after standing for five days and four nights without food, drink, or rest. "Hitler killed 6,000,000 of my people but what do you do about it?" he asked his hearers. "Did you pray for the welfare of Jerusalem? If you haven't been praying for the Jews, I pray that you will be after this service.

He described the tortuous deaths meted out to Jews at Dachau "for fun" by their jailors and of the manner in which Christian ministers were held and beaten to death because they would not sign statements that "Not Christ but Hitler is my leader."

Urging upon his audience the importance of "deciding for Christ," he said: "The concentration camp was bad but hell is worse. At Dachau the soul was free after death of the body but in hell, there is no escape for the soul forever."

The speaker told how his wife secured his release from Dachau under a plan to go to Shanghai, of his subsequent baptism in the Reformed church and of his coming to America on the last boat out of Antwerp before hostilities.

SEE DEFEAT FOR RUSSIAN MOVE ON A-WEAPONS

By HARRY HAUCK

Lake Success, July 14 (P)—A veiled move by Russia to get the United Nations to endorse the immediate destruction of all atomic weapons appeared headed for defeat today in the atomic energy commission.

American sources said that Soviet Deputy Foreign Minister Andrei A. Gromyko was attempting to override a United States plan, already agreed to by all except Russia and Poland, which calls for disposal of the bombs only upon completion of a treaty for worldwide atomic control with airtight safeguards.

Gromyko last week offered a proposal for "destruction" of all finished and unfinished atomic weapons rather than for their "disposal." He drew tentative support from Britain, Canada, Brazil, China and Australia, all of whom stipulated, however, that the nuclear fuel in such weapons should be retained for peaceful purposes.

To Report Today

With delegates unable to agree on wording, the proposal was handed to a four-nation subcommittee which was directed to report to the commission's working committee today (3 p.m. EDT).

American sources said there were two "jokers" in the proposal.

First, they said, by avoiding any direct mention of the time of such destruction, Gromyko was trying to circumvent the American plan for stage-by-stage surrender of atomic secrets and finally the bomb itself.

Secondly, Gromyko was said to be attempting to bar the possibility of the bombs being handed over to a proposed UN police force for use in event of aggression. By using the term "disposal" instead of "destruction," the American plan left this question open and so far U.S. representatives have indicated a belief that the point should be passed over pending agreements on atomic control and the international force.

Plan Benefit For Umpire's Family

Arrangements have been made for a benefit baseball game to be played at Arendtsville next Sunday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock, proceeds of which will be given to the family of the late Raymond "Bud" Kuhn, of Biglerville.

Tickets for the game, which will be a non-league contest between Bendersville and Arendtsville, have been placed on sale and are selling at 50¢.

Bendersville and Arendtsville have each been allotted 300 tickets, Biglerville 600, and each other member of the Adams County league 100.

Secret Ballot May End 47-Day Strike

Lancaster, Pa., July 14 (AP)—A secret ballot has resulted in acceptance today of terms which would end a 47-day walkout at Armstrong Cork company plants in Lancaster. A spokesman for the union, Local 285 of the United Rubber Workers (CIO), said the employees had voted 4 to 1 to accept the pact which would increase wages by 12 cents an hour.

He added that the acceptance must be cleared through the union's international office in Akron, Ohio, but said this is "only a technicality."

About 3,800 workers have been idle in the strike over wage demands. Neither the union's demands nor the present wage scales were announced.

Fourteen straight New York Yankee wins have turned the American league "race" into a shambles. Just as in 1946 when the Boston Red Sox ran away from the pack, the other "contenders" are so busy eliminating one another that the leaders are pulling out of sight.

Manager Bucky Harris doesn't like that sort of talk for he is fully aware of the misfortunes into which his Yanks can run. Other, and perhaps better, teams have blown longer leads at much later dates.

But this Yankee club, a well balanced organization with consistently steady pitching, keeps on winning while second place changes hands day after day. Pitcher Frank Shea's sore arm is their only serious woe of the moment.

Detroit, the early season leader, now tenants the runnerup spot because the Tigers whumped Philadelphia twice while Boston dropped a pair to Cleveland. Ten games and a half is not an impossible handicap to overcome in mid-July but none of the other first division teams appear capable of making a sustained drive.

One more Yank win will match the Red Sox' best effort of last season and two more will equal the Yankees' high of 16 set by the old Murderers' Row in 1926. Chicago holds the American league record of 19 in 1906 and the all-time mark is 26, hung up by John McGraw's fourth-place Giants in 1916.

In the history of the league, there have been only seven clubs that have copped more than 14 straight.

Gambles With Newsom

Harris found himself fresh out of regular pitchers yesterday so he gambled and won with old Bobo Newsom, who was claimed on waivers from Washington, and Rookie Vic Raschi, who was brought back to the parent club as a reward for his fine record while on option to Portland of the Pacific Coast league.

Newsom, hungry for a slice of World Series dough, showed his poor Washington record (4-6) was just a mistake as he turned back Chicago with five hits in a 10-3 romp.

Inspired by Newsom's performance, Raschi threw a shutout ball for six innings but weakened in the seventh and gave way to Joe Page. Allie Reynolds finally had to rush to the hill in the last of the ninth to preserve a 6-4 edge and the 14th straight win.

Detolt belted Connie Mack's sinking A's, 4-2 and 7-6. After Virgil Trucks tamed the Athletics with a five-hitter in the opener, Freddy Hutchinson pulled the second out of the fire. He had to come through with three hitless relief innings and required Roy Cullenbine's eighth-inning homer to earn his seventh victory.

Mel Harder shut out the Red Sox with nine hits, 8-0, the 22nd triumph of his long career. And his Cleveland staffmate, Steve Gromek, outpitched Joe Dobson, 6-2, to make it a clean sweep for the Cleveland Indians.

Only 4,848 St. Louis citizens were interested enough to show up for the Browns' doubleheader with Washington. Sid Hudson had things his own way in the 4-2 opener but the Browns finally downed the Senators, their first in eight starts, 3-2.

Boosters of a subway World Series drew added support from Brooklyn's 9-1 success against Cincinnati, stretching their win string to seven.

Despite the win, the Dodgers lost ground for the Boston Braves swept two from Chicago's stumbling Cubs, 8-7, 6-5, and now trail by only three games.

Ben Chapman threw his lefthanded pitchers against the St. Louis Cardinals and got away with an even break. Ken Heintzelman hurled the Philadelphia club to a 4-2 nod over Benkhardt in the first game but Howie Pollet later bested Oscar Judd, 3-2 in a 10-inning duel decided by Stan Musial's triple.

Pittsburgh and the New York Giants split two in the Polo Grounds, the Giants thus holding third place by one percentage point over the Cards. The Pirates took the first, 6-3, but lost the second game, 3-1.

YANKS MAKING SHAMBLES OF PENNANT RACE

21 KILLED AS DC-3 CRASHES IN SWAMPLAND

By JAMES F. FOWLER

Melbourne, Fla., July 14 (AP)—Twenty-one persons were killed yesterday in the crash of a DC-3 charted airliner in swampy wastelands near here, and today 12 remained unidentified mainly because of a confusion in Spanish names.

The death toll was expected to mount with two of the 13 injured on the "critical" list.

The plane, enroute from Newark, N. J., to Miami with 36 persons aboard—a crew of five and 31 homebound Puerto Ricans—cut a 300-foot swath through the scrub pine six miles from this Florida east coast town as it ploughed to earth shortly after 4:30 a. m. (EST).

Civil Aeronautics Authority investigators reached the scene early but would not comment on their findings.

The plane had last been heard from as it passed over Jacksonville, Fla., after leaving Augusta, Ga.

Similarity in the Spanish names of the Puerto Ricans, a number of whom were young children carried in the arms of parents and not listed as passengers, and the inability of the survivors to speak English, hampered identification of the dead.

Two children escaped injury. One was a boy, Jose Rodriguez, 3, whose mother, Pura Rodriguez, is not expected to live. She has 12 broken bones. The other child was Ellen Acevedo, 5.

Among the dead were the pilot, Capt. Henry Hein, 36, of Houston, Tex., the co-pilot, Roderick Paul MacKinnon, formerly of Rochester, N. Y., and his wife who was signed on as a member of the crew.

Former Gov. Harold E. Stassen of Minnesota, who usually attends these meetings, isn't on hand, but has staunch rooters here.

But thus far it is Dewey, who carries the Republican banner unsuccessfully against the late President Roosevelt in 1944, who is getting top billing, even from colleagues who say privately that their personal choice might be some other candidate.

Without disclosing his own feelings in the matter, Gov. Horace Hildreth told a reporter he thinks there is substantial sentiment in Maine for Dewey. Senator Owen Brewster is more or less openly bidding for favorite son support from that state.

Today's Talk

THE RETURN

Again I am at my beloved little island, "Weskawena," on Grand Lake, Nova Scotia. I have returned for the seventeenth time—and I do not know how many more returns I shall have—perhaps not many—but each return is a thrill. Here are quiet, peace, and a multitude of interests, though most would say that it would be the dreariest of places. Not for a lover of nature and her works, however. For a spell I have my good friend Prof. Herbert West, the inspiring Dartmouth College teacher of Comparative Literature, with me. Then there will be a few other choice spirits to share my interests and outdoor joys. On my table is big bird book, a gift from my friend John Kieran, who is a neighbor of mine back home. Now I shall study birds with my field glasses with greater care and enthusiasm. I have many upon this little island. They are very friendly, and their songs open and close each day with a doxology and benediction.

There are so few fundamental changes in nature, though nature is ever changing—never with the same face or garment—but always with the same welcome and the same silent joyousness and visible beauty. I stand and look in wonder upon the commonest of creations. The blueberries are in bloom, and before a month is over there will be delicious berries right from the bushes kissed and seasoned by the dew and sunshine.

But Nature is a creature of moods. A few days ago there was nothing but wind and rain. Now all is still. The lake is like a field of newly polished glass. The sun sweeps its dying rays in golden sheets across its surface. The curtain of night is drawn. A half moon winks from the starry heavens. The moan of a hoot owl would be a pleasant break in the dead silence. But how relaxing it all is! It's the medicine of silence that is able to cure most of our ailments—especially those which we merely imagine!

And so it is that I devote hours to writing and reading, and have time to sit upon a rustic bench and feed a half dozen or so greedy, scampering squirrels, who take peanuts eagerly from my fingers, who seem not to forget the favors of former years, and who also seem to have welcomed my return to "Weskawena."

Mr. Carter, celebrated as a wild beast tamer, died a short time ago in London.

Mad Dogs: We learn that some mad dogs exhibiting rabid symptoms have been in our town and neighborhood during the past week, and that several persons have been bitten, as well as dogs, cattle, etc. The borough council very properly have passed an ordinance upon the subject, which will be found in the advertising columns.

Whig County Convention: A convention of Whig delegates from the different townships and boroughs of Adams county, assembled in the court-house in Gettysburg on Monday the 5th of July for the purpose of settling a county ticket.

Henry Spalding was appointed President; R. W. McSherry and G. Edward Hersh, secretaries.

The following ticket was agreed upon: for Senator, William P. Sader; Assembly, William McSherry; Commissioner, Jacob King; Auditor, Amos W. Maginly; Director of the Poor, Thomas McCleary; and Treasurer, Robert G. Harper.

SEVENTY-FIVE YEARS AGO

Married: Intelligence has been received of the marriage of Miss Carrie McMillan, missionary to India, from this place, to Rev. Philo Buck, also engaged in the missionary work.

Accident: One day last week, a young man named H. Newman, of Mountjoy township accidentally shot himself in the right side, while out gunning. The wound, though painful, was not serious.

Married: Jacobs-Downing: In Baltimore, on the 3d inst., by Rev. J. A. Seiss, D. D., of Philadelphia, Rev. Prof. H. E. Jacobs, of Pennsylvania College, and Miss Laura E. Downing.

Jauby-Wolf: On the 4th inst., by Rev. D. J. Wolff, Wm. H. Jauby, of Butler township, to Miss Adelae Wolff, of Straban township.

For Europe: Dr. M. D. G. Pfeiffer, of New Oxford, sails this week from Baltimore on a visit to Germany, and expects to return next spring. The Dr. is over 80 years of age, but his mind is still clear and strong. Passionately devoted to the "fatherland," and an enthusiastic admirer of Bismarck, under the inspiration of whose genius Germany has sprung to the front of nations, the Dr. is desirous of seeing for himself the marvelous changes thus wrought out. We wish him a prosperous voyage and a safe return.

Miss A. Forney respectfully informs her friends and the public that her school—formerly Miss Hill's—will open the third Monday in September, viz.: 16th. Any desiring information, will please call at her residence.

Three shutout contests featured the second half games in the Adams County Baseball league played Saturday afternoon with Fairfield and New Oxford remaining in a deadlock for top honors.

The Bendersville-Gettysburg game scheduled to be played here was postponed until July 23 when a brief but heavy shower just prior to game time prevented the contest.

New Oxford blanked Orrtanna 2-0 in a tight pitchers' contest at Orrtanna.

The winners tabbed a run in the first on a walk to Huffnagle, sacrifice by Haar and single by Staub. Another run came in the third on another pass to Huffnagle, single by Haar and an error on the latter's hit after Huffnagle had been trapped between third base and home. D. Robert, Orrtanna hurler, permitted five hits and fanned four.

L. Bevenour gave up four safeties and whiffed five. Orrtanna put base runners on first and second in the eighth and another runner on in the ninth but could not score.

Littlestown Wins

Although outhitting Littlestown 9 to 7, Arendsburg dropped a 3-0 count at Arendsburg. The visitors pushed over a pair of runs in the opening frame and added another in the seventh. Schwartz kept the nine blows well spaced. Hartzell collected three hits for Arendsburg. The game was called at the end of the eighth inning due to rain.

Jim Donaldson pitched Fairfield to a 2-0 victory over Emmitsburg on the latter's field.

Hapover hit hard to crush McSherrystown 9-1 at Hanover.

Another schedule adjustment reveals Littlestown's victory over Mc-

Sherrystown on the afternoon of July 4th counts for Littlestown in the second half.

HOGAN-DEMARET WIN INVERNESS

By FRITZ HOWELL

Toledo, Ohio, July 14 (AP) — For the third time in seven years, and the second time in a row, little Benny Hogan and Jimmy Demaret today held the Inverness Invitational Four-Ball Golf championship.

The two best-ball stars, twice victors in the Miami four-ball event and the year's top money winners, took down the $3,000 top prize and an additional award of $250 for firing 43 birdies and four eagles over the 126-hole seven-match grind which wound up yesterday.

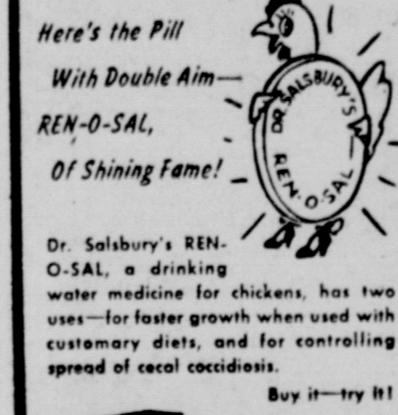

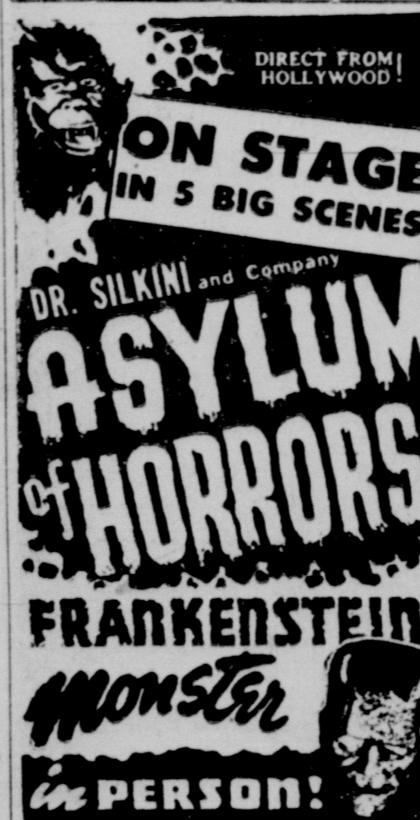

The field of all-stars ripped the Inverness layout apart with 322 birdies and eight eagles in one of the greatest scoring sprees the event has ever experienced.

Proving that like all champions they had the punch in the pinch, Hogan and Demaret actually wrapped up the laurels in the third round match Friday afternoon. That day they came up to the 16th tee one up over Ellsworth Vines and Clayton Heafner, and fired three straight birdies in a stretch drive to finish four up.

Vines and Heafner lost only one of their seven matches, but that one, to Hogan and Demaret, cost them the championship and $1,300 in prize money, and they finished just two points back of the leaders.

Chicago, July 14 (AP) — Boxing gloves were tossed to the sidelines today as Tony Zale, world's middleweight champion and Rocky Graziano, Brooklyn challenger, engaged in final drills for their 15-round title bout Wednesday night.

Neither planned anything more strenuous than light gymnasium routine with no boxing. Zale, refreshed by a day's layoff to break the monotony of training, made a last minute switch of plans and decided to engage in a short workout for the benefit of late arriving newspapermen who had not seen him in action.

Graziano also will go through light gym exercises. He planned some brisk running during the morning hours before limbering up in the gymnasium in the afternoon.

Formal Opening Of New Ohler And Wood Store Is Scheduled For WednesdayBUSINESS GREW FROM DEMANDS OF CUSTOMERS

Bendersville's newest store grew out of a sideline added to the original stock at the patrons' request. Now the sideline is a principal business.

That is the story back of the Ohler and Wood store which on Wednesday will have its formal opening at Bendersville.

W. M. Ohler, senior partner in the firm, today told how he and his son-in-law started out with a hardware and radio repair store and wound up with a grocery-hardware-radio establishment.

Ohler has been in the store business for 25 years, starting out in Taneytown, Md., where he conducted a store for 15 years. Then for 4 years he operated a store at New Chester. Later for five years he had a restaurant at Aspers and after that, during the war years, he was a yard foreman at Harrisburg for the Harrisburg Lumber company.

The war over, he decided to retire to Bendersville, the home of his wife, and take things easy for a time. When his son-in-law, Howard E. Wood, got out of service they decided to utilize a small storeroom at the side of their house as a business establishment.

Started As Hobby

Ohler thought possibly he could keep busy and enjoy himself by operating a hardware store. Wood had studied radio work at Altoona, and later was a radio technician with the army. He decided to go into the radio repair business in the same store.

Shortly after the two opened for business they found customers remarking that, since their establishment was the closest store to the north end of Bendersville, it would be a convenience to the customers in the north end of the town if they would also sell groceries.

Ohler points out that the hardware business was not very important at the time. Nearly everything he was trying to secure for the store could not be obtained because of the shortages, so he put in a few groceries.

The few groceries grew to a lot of groceries, and "just about that time too, all the things I had ordered for the hardware store started to pour in," Ohler says.

Space Too Crowded

The small storeroom in which Ohler and Woods were working, selling groceries and trying to find room for the hardware is well, is 12 feet wide by 24 feet deep.

"We were falling all over everything and ourselves," Ohler commented. "There was no room for the customers and very little for the goods." They decided to build.

Starting in April they built a one story frame structure 68 feet long and 24 feet wide which has become the Ohler and Wood store. The structure will be covered with tar paper brick and as soon as possible an addition is to be made to the rear for storage space. The new store building was put up just south of the Ohler home on what previously had been a lawn.

"Now we'll have some room," Ohler comments in looking over the shiny, spick and span interior of the structure. Established on a "serve yourself" basis, it has a cashier's stand in the front and goods are available on small counters throughout the front of the room. To the rear is the hardware, radio supplies and the like.

"Customers Built Store"

Wood plans to use the old store room as a workshop for his radio work. So far he has had over 300

New Ohler And Wood Store In Bendersville

The above is an exterior view of the new store built by W. M. Ohler and his son-in-law, Howard E. Wood, in Bendersville. It will be formally opened on Wednesday. The original store was started in a small storeroom at the side of their home. The new one, 24 by 68 feet, is south of the home on what used to be a lawn. The first store offered hardware and radio repairs. Groceries were added until this has become the main line.

radios for repairs and "from the looks of things I'll have a lot more now," he says.

Both Ohler and Wood pay tribute to the customers who have "really built the store," they say. "We started out in one business and our customers kept insisting we add to it. Now I think the whole north end is dealing with us." Ohler says, "I only hope we can provide the folks with the goods they want and give them the service they should have."

WOMAN HELPS PLANE IN FOG

A view of the interior of the new Ohler and Wood store in Bendersville's north end, which will have its formal opening on Wednesday, is shown in the above photograph. The customers will serve themselves, from the counters, shelves and display cases shown in the picture. A cashier's desk is located at the front of the store.

Pittsburgh, July 14 (AP)—Two veteran army flyers who served overseas made a successful forced landing in a small private plane yesterday—thanks to a woman who heard their craft circling over a fogbound oat field near here.

Pretty Theresa James, 36, who served as a ferry pilot for the Army Transport Command during World War II, rushed to the field as the plane circled repeatedly, coming lower each time.

With her three brothers, Theresa used towels and shirts as signal devices and the plane landed, only to somersault as its wheels locked.

However, Roy Confer, the pilot, and William Loker, 36, both of Titusville, Pa., walked from the wreckage unhurt.

Confer said they were en route from Cambridge, O., to their home when their plane entered a fog blanket over Pittsburgh. The gasoline was nearly exhausted when they spotted the oat field and landed in the hay with Miss James' aid.

Keep an aluminum cup of hot water containing soda beside the dishpan when doing breakfast dishes. Into this cup dip spoons or forks discolored by breakfast eggs. By the time the dishes are done, the silver is bright again.

Soldiers Drugged, Kidnapped By JewsSoldiers Drugged, Kidnapped By Jews

Jerusalem, July 12 (AP)—Two British sergeants were kidnapped from Natanya early today by Jewish police believed to be extremist underground fighters, and later a Jewish source said Haganah, moderate Jewish underground army, was searching for the two under threat of British martial law if they were not found.

The Jewish informant said Haganah, so-called Jewish National defense army and military organization of the Jewish agency, was hunting through between 30 and 50 Jewish coastal plain settlements north of all-Jewish Tel Aviv and had thrown several hundred men into the search. Natanya itself, with a Jewish population of 10,000 lies 40 miles north of Tel Aviv.

The soldiers identified as members of the army's special investigation detail, were reported hurried off toward the Tel Aviv highway five miles away.

Officials said it was reported both were chloroformed.

Motor travel in 1946 totaled 170,000,000 miles, according to the Public Roads Administration.

Former County Resident Sets Up Enviable Record In Maryland Police Work

A former Adams countian is the subject of a recent interesting article in the "County Record" of Towson, Md. Under the heading "County Profile," the newspaper tells the story of Lt. J. Leroy Kane, twin brother of Carl W. Kane, Ardenstville, commander of all activities of the Northwestern district of the Baltimore county police, which includes the Pikesville, Woodlawn and Reisterstown stations.

"Notable among his friends, neighbors and general Baltimore county citizens, for many reasons, Lieutenant Kane is particularly noteworthy today (Independence Day) because it happens to be his birthday," says the newspaper story. "Lieutenant Kane was born in Gettysburg, Pa., just about the time all calendars were undergoing the general facelifting which proclaimed a new century," it continues.

"In a few months now Roy Kane will observe his twentieth year as a member of Baltimore county's finest." His record has been marked with innumerable citations for his display of devotion and courage as a law enforcement officer.

"To go back and size up the Baltimore County Police department of 15 to 20 years ago, one will find that it was comprised of only a very small percentage of the manpower and facilities of which it is made up today. Yet there are many criminals still behind bars today, who committed every crime conceivable in the Baltimore county of those days, who did not reckon the ability of the handful of officers who were out to 'get their man,' while for the most part 'on their own'."

Wounded in First War

"Born a farm boy, Leroy Kane remained as a 'tiller of the soil' until as a young man he went into the electrical business. Here he remained until 1917 when he was drafted into the army as a member of the 316th Infantry of the 79th Division.

"Trained at Camp Meade, the outfit moved overseas and into action. Soldier Kane took part in three major battles of the first World War, namely St. Mihiel, Verdun and Argonne. In the battle of the Argonne he received shrapnel wounds in the leg, the scars of which he bears today. As a first sergeant, he served for a while in the Army of Occupation and refused commission in order to be able to return home and be discharged at Garden City, Long Island, N. Y.

"Sergeant Kane returned to his electrical business, and in 1920 married the former Martha M. Bowling of Gettysburg. In 1923 he and his wife moved to Reisterstown, to carry on his business.

"In 1928 he joined the Baltimore County Police Department, and in six months, less two days, he had been promoted to sergeant.

"Since that time, he has served at every Baltimore County Police station with the exception of Dundalk.

"He received his promotion to lieutenant in January 1942.

On Outstanding Cases

"As mentioned before, Lieutenant Kane has figured in several outstanding cases, such as the capture of the notorious Phillips gang, the Green Spring Valley thieves, the capture of Calvin Tyson, negro murderer of aged Stevenson storekeeper, William Hunter, and the capture of Joseph Williams, wanted for attempted murder and rape.

"In the Phillips gang case, which was in 1933, desperadoes were wanted for armed postal robberies in several states. Discovered in hiding near Pikesville, Kane, who was then a sergeant, led a force of FBI men and city detectives to their hideout. At the approach of the law enforcement body, the gangsters attempted to flee in their cars. The car was riddled with 28 bullets by the officers, and when halted, the desperadoes attempted to run for it. They were immediately enveloped in pistol air machine-gun fire, one of the thugs being critically wounded, the other being captured unscathed. Both received long term sentences.

"In 1930, seven Green Spring Valley homes were looted to the tune of almost $35,000 in valuable articles of jewelry, clothing and furniture. Assigned to the case, Sergeant Kane noticed on the night of a robbery at

SAYS PEOPLE'S LIVES, HEALTH ARE IMPORTANT

Washington, July 14 (P) — Dollar economy should be placed second to people's lives and health and safety. Senator Myers (D-Pa.) said today in urging a Senate committee to provide more funds for Pennsylvania flood control, river and harbor improvement workers.

"The need for this money is compelling," he told a Senate Appropriations Subcommittee considering new funds for that type of projects.

Describing the Conemaugh river reservoir as the key one in a series of dams designed to protect Pittsburgh from disastrous floods, Myers said the House recommendation of $5,200,000 for that project should be concurred in by the Senate.

Had the disastrous flood of 1936 at Pittsburgh re-occurred during the war, Myers said, it "would have been a greater blow to America than was the Pearl Harbor attack because such a flood would have smothered war production in the very arsenal of our escort, Sergeant Kane knew his man from the description provided, and captured him in seven hours. In trying this, the last case of his career, Judge Duncan remarked upon how Sergeant Kane knew the people in his district and could recognize them just from a description.

"There have been many other cases in which Lieutenant Kane has figured in the past few years. In almost all of them Lieutenant Kane spotted the wanted man ahead of him. Knowing that they would pass the Pikesville station, Kane sped ahead, deposited his first prisoner behind bars, and then ran into the Reisterstown road and flagged down the suspected car.

Discovered Hideout

"Wanting to find their hideout and probably some of the stolen goods, Kane put the driver behind bars on the strength of the trespass warrant and turned the other loose, 'until morning.' As he suspected, the freed man headed for the hideout. Following in his police car with darkened headlights, Kane was led to the hideout, a short distance across the city line. Summoning city police, to guard the outside, Sergeant Kane went into the house, and captured his man at pistol point, in a third floor apartment. A good bit of stolen goods was found there but not all. Sergeant Kane spent days in a city express office and finally found the destination of most of the goods. In all, 98 per cent of the loot was recovered in various parts of the country. Brought to trial in Towson, the bandits, William Martson, and Albert Davis, were sentenced to long terms and Sergeant Kane received a glowing commendation from Judge Grason for his handling of the case.

"In 1938, William Hunter, a well known Stevenson storekeeper, was murdered in a robbery of his store. Working on clues alone, Sergeant Kane provided such a description of the suspect that he, a negro named Calvin Tyson, was captured in Anna, Ill., and brought to justice.

Urge More Funds

Myers urged the Senate Committee to boost substantially the $400,000 allowed by the House for the Punxsutawney flood walls, explaining that while one unit is nearly complete, protection it will afford "will be far from adequate" unless the second unit is substantially completed.

For the partially built flood walls at Williamsport, Myers suggested that the Senate go well beyond the House-approved figure of $1,850,000.

Making so-called "savings," Myers argued, "merely for fiscal bookkeeping purposes at the expense of people's lives and safety is an intolerable abuse of economic common sense."

Other projects for which Myers asked funds:

Sunbury—$1,500,000 compared with the House-allowed $1,169,000.

East Branch, Clarion river reservoir—$1,500,000 to augment $500,000 voted last year; House this year voted nothing for it.

Delaware river between Philadelphia and the sea—$1,000,000; House voted nothing for it.

Ohio river open channel work—$200,000; nothing provided by House.

Myers also urged the Senate to make initial construction appropriations for such previously authorized projects as the widening and deepening of the Schuylkill river in Philadelphia, and other works.

Chapter 16

By the time they reached the Club Pelican, Susan was again gay and carefree. The musical show had been perfect. With just a word, Steve had managed to get the others seated so that only two seats on the aisle remained for him and Susan. Oddly enough, Mrs. Tremont was already in the seat on the other side of Susan and, without knowing how it had been managed, Susan was grateful. It would have been too much to sit through the show before John and Steve!

As it was, there was no moment when reality seemed any less glamorous than the show on the stage. Susan watched it and listened to the songs with the glowing feeling that they were beautiful. But even more thrilling was Steve's hand on hers, his shoulder lightly against her own, his flowers throwing a screen of fragrance about them.

As the men checked their hats at the club, Bella Gaines managed to introduce a more earthy note.

"I suppose you go around to places like this all the time," she said to Susan, contriving to convey her disapproval of the practice.

Susan did not answer immediately. She glanced at the small vestibule with its hushed and homelike atmosphere, and peered beyond Bella into the series of small rooms that opened one into another, like the rooms in a private house. It seemed not too glamorous, she thought, for a place as famous as Club Pelican. But she managed a shrug for Bella as she answered the girl's question.

"It gets to be something of a bore, after a while," she said distantly.

She was not conscious of Bella again for the rest of the evening. In fact, the whole Club Pelican seemed only background for Steve—charming, handsome, wonderful Steve, who in turn seemed to see only her.

DUFF REQUESTS DRIVE FOR PURE WATER SUPPLIES

Salt Lake City, Utah, July 14 (P)—Gov. James H. Duff called today for a nation-wide program to curb the "danger to our health and security" arising from increasingly polluted water supplies.

Asserting that the nation's water resources have suffered from "reckless and thoughtless exploitation," Duff told the annual governors' conference in a prepared talk:

"The continuation unchecked of the present course of mounting pollution, considered in conjunction with the alarming contamination of underground water supplies, is bound to result in the most serious consequences both to the health of our people and to the progress of our industry.

CITES OHIO BASIN

"Every unwanted thing in our civilization, from human body waste to garbage, filth, and the corruptive discharges from industrial plants, finds its way into our water supplies only because it is the easiest and cheapest way to dispose of it."

Citing the Ohio river basin as an example, the Pennsylvania executive said "it is a lamentable commentary upon the low estate into which one of greatest national resources has fallen that practically all streams in this vast and representative area are polluted by sewage and industrial waste, in many instances, intensified by severe corrosive qualities acquired from acid mine drainage."

Duff, who as attorney general under U. S. Senator Edward Martin, led the fight for strengthened pure stream law in Pennsylvania, made no reference to Pennsylvania's own anti-pollution program which includes notification to municipalities and industries to prepare plans for sewage and waste treatment works.

"But he's dead, ain't he?" In his excitement, Cranston lapsed into the colloquial.

Susan finally managed to bring her mind down to Cranston's level.

"What trouble did Bella tell you about?" she inquired cautiously.

"Oh, about the four kids, and how you're not as young as you look," Cranston said vaguely. "But as I say, that's okay with me. I like women with experience."

Susan thought fast.

"Did Bella say anything about my husband?" she demanded crisply.

"But he's dead, ain't he?" In his excitement, Cranston lapsed into the colloquial.

Susan laughed. "He'd be amused

ARMY AND MARINE CORPS PILOT KILLED

Philadelphia, July 14 (P)—Two airplane crashes in the Philadelphia area brought death to an Army and a Marine Corps pilot.

In Harbourton, N. J., a Corsair single-seat navy plane rammed into a tree and crashed in a church cemetery, killing Marine Lt. J. W. Wilson of Burlington, N. J.

At about the same time, last night, an Army Air Forces pilot, 23-year-old Lt. John W. Heller, died in the flaming wreckage of his training plane at Weissport, Pa.

The crackup took place within a hundred yards of Heller's home.

Meanwhile, in Philadelphia an investigation into the amphibious plane crash in which two persons died last Thursday was completed.

Thomas Buckley, public works director, said that impatience on the part of the pilot and his passengers led to the street crackup. Killed when the plane ran out of gasoline were the pilot, Martin Garson of New York, and a passenger, Howard A. Perkins of Wilmington, Del.

HURT BY TRAIN

New York, July 14 (P)—A man who identified himself as Henry Jordan Erickson of Harrisburg, Pa., was seriously injured yesterday when he fell or jumped in front of an elevated train.

Motorman Patrick Ryan told police that he saw the man plunge about 10 feet in front of the train and applied the emergency brakes, reversing the train. The man fell between the rails and was wedged under the first track of the leading car.

COAL PRICES JUMP IN PITTSBURGH AREA

Pittsburgh, July 14 (P)—The price of coal rose from $1 to $2 a ton today for Pittsburgh household users.

The biggest jump was a $2 advance in the cost of coke and coke.

Other new carb delivery prices are: Two-inch lump, $8.80, stocker, $8.70, smokeless lump, $11.60, egg, $8.70, smokeless screenings, $10, run-of-the-mine, $8.20, stove, $8.60, and four-inch block, $8.95.

In addition, the retail coal dealers association disclosed dealers now will charge 50 cents a ton extra on orders of less than two tons and $1 a ton to wheel or chute coal into storage.

The Pittsburgh Consolidation Coal Co. last week raised prices 75 cents a ton for deep mined coal as a result of the $1.20 hourly pay hike granted miners.

Thomas Buckley, public works director, said that impatience on the part of the pilot and his passengers led to the street crackup. Killed when the plane ran out of gasoline were the pilot, Martin Garson of New York, and a passenger, Howard A. Perkins of Wilmington, Del.

28TH DIVISION HONORS DEAD OF TWO WARS

Boalsburg, July 14 (P)—Newly placed wreaths hung on specially erected white crosses in front of the 28th Division's shrine here today as symbolic expression of sympathy from the men who twice fought in France for the boys who did not come back.

The wreaths were placed on the white crosses yesterday at the annual memorial services held by members of the society of the 28th Division.

Brig. Gen. Norman D. Cota, who commanded the 28th during World War Two, was one of the speakers at the impressive ceremonies conducted in the wooded dell just off U. S. Route 322 recently named the 28th Division highway. On Saturday Cota had been elected as national commander of the society at the closing session of the group's annual convention in nearby Bellefonte.

Other speakers were Brig. Gen. Daniel B. Strickler, present division commander and also state lieutenant governor, and Clyde E. Rankin, state commander of the Pennsylvania Department of the American Legion, who took the place of the ailing Paul Griffith, national head of the Legion.

SEEK TO IDENTIFY BODY; NOT HABER

Hollidaysburg, Pa., July 14 (P)—Police sought to identify today the body of a man found in a woods near here.

Coroner Daniel Reagle of Blair county, said first reports after the body was discovered yesterday by Joseph Shyrock, indicated it may have been that of Prof. Vernon R. Haber of State College who has been missing several weeks. He added that a dental check discounted this theory.

The earliest type of boat is believed to have been the raft, made of grass, logs of wood, bundles of reeds or other light materials tied together.

Reagle said the body was that of a man about 60 years old. There were no indications of violence.

HARRISBURG IN HOLIDAY DRESS FOR VFW MEET

Harrisburg, July 14 (AP)—Flags were fastened to every light standard, and gay bunting was draped from every office building and hotel in downtown Harrisburg today in preparation for the annual encampment of the Veterans of Foreign Wars that opens here on Wednesday.

More than 3,000 delegates were expected to attend the four-day convention where such problems as postwar housing and home buying are expected to highlight the discussions.

John U. Shroyer, state commander of the VFW, and former state secretary of highways, said representatives were coming here from some 800 VFW posts scattered throughout Pennsylvania with many due to arrive in time for a pre-convention banquet tomorrow night at which time U. S. Sen. Edward Martin, himself a veteran of three foreign wars, was to be the principal speaker.

Louis E. Starr, National Commander of the VFW, was also listed as one of the honor guests at the banquet in the ballroom of the Penn-Harris hotel.

Memorial Services

Shroyer will preside over a joint session of the VFW and the Ladies Auxiliary on Wednesday as the first formal business of the convention gets started. Outdoor memorial services for the dead of three wars will be held Wednesday evening in Harrisburg's Reservoir park, with the Rev. William E. Swope of Trinity Lutheran church, Lebanon, giving the principal address.

Action of resolutions concerning housing, job placements, veterans' preference, universal military training, and cashing of terminal leave bonds, were all listed for Friday.

Election of new officers was slated for Saturday morning with Frank Hilton, of Womelsdorf, present senior vice commander, likely to succeed Shroyer, providing the veterans follow their usual procedure of advancing their officers.

A parade of all uniformed posts and their bands will feature the four-day gathering on Saturday afternoon, followed by a military ball on Saturday night as the final event on a lengthy program.

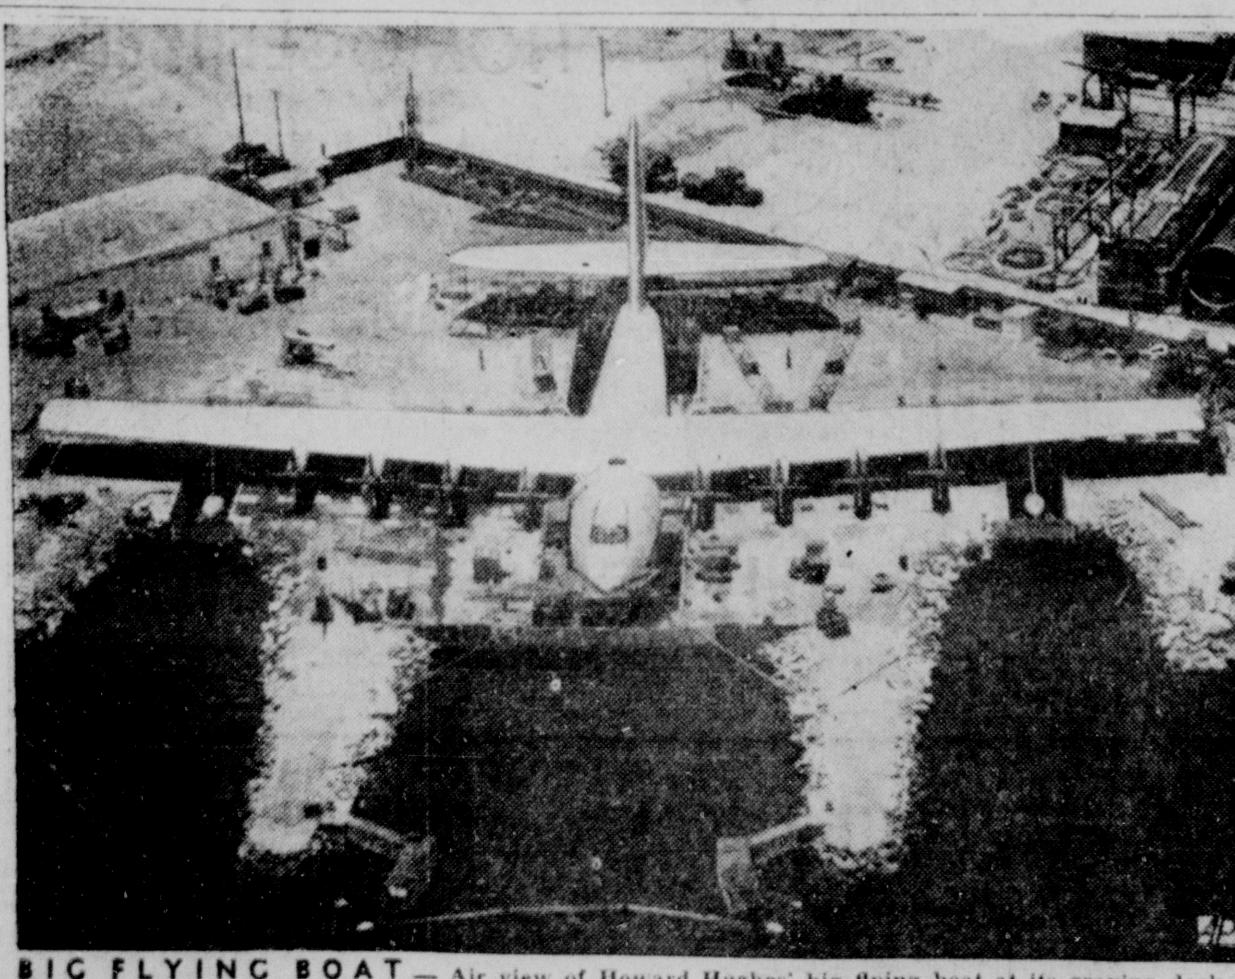

News Briefs

Willow Grove, Pa., July 14 (AP)—Lyman S. Peck, a 54-year-old Philadelphia engineer who had been missing from his home since last Friday, was found dead in his parked automobile here. Abington Township police said they found no marks of violence on Peck's body, leading them to believe that his death was the result of natural causes. Peck, a former resident of Sewickley, Pa., was a member of a socially prominent Pittsburgh family.

Philadelphia, July 14 (AP)—A twin engine type helicopter—described by the Army Air Force as the first of its kind and one of the largest such craft in the world—has been tested successfully at nearby North Wales, Pa. AAF officers said the large craft, weighing 11,000 pounds, is capable of carrying ten passengers in addition to the pilot or can be used to transport six wounded persons.

Philadelphia, July 14 (AP)—Samuel Lehman, 82, one of the oldest practicing wigmakers of America, died Saturday. A native of Alsace Lorraine, Lehman attended schools in Paris and engaged in the wig making profession in France before coming to this country. Funeral services will be held in Philadelphia Wednesday.

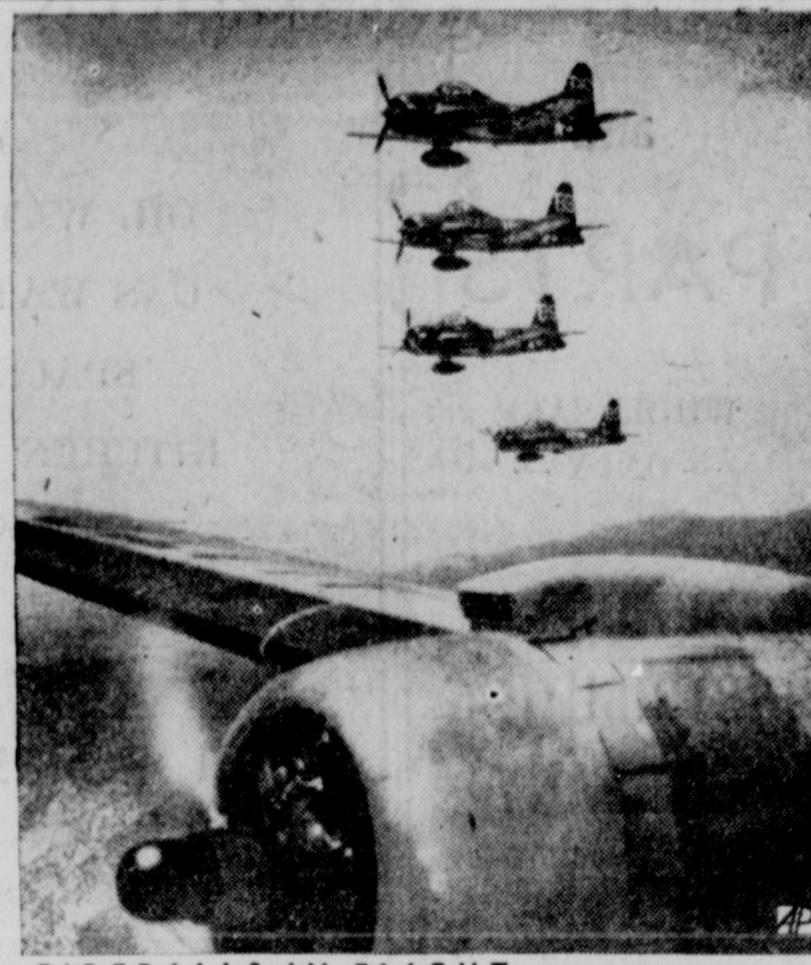

Easton, Pa., July 14 (AP)—The state of Pennsylvania has given its support to plans to bring natural gas into Philadelphia and Pittsburgh through the Big and Little Inch pipe lines. Stating that natural gas would not affect the state's coal industry adversely, Attorney General T. McKeen Chidsey said Pennsylvania has actively taken up support of the proposal of the Texas Eastern Transmission company to deliver natural gas from Oklahoma and Texas.

ABDUCTORS OF TWO SERGEANTS DEFY BRITISH

Jerusalem, July 14 (AP)—Irgun Zvai Leumi—Jewish underground organization—today defied the British Army and police to free two British Army sergeants whom it boasted of kidnapping and confining as hostages for three Irgunists under death sentence.

The Irgun announcement said the soldiers were unharmed and "in a place where they can be kept a month or more."

British authorities meanwhile intensified their search for the hostages and served notice that unless they were returned by tonight martial law would be imposed on Palestine's diamond capital of Natanya, 40 miles north of Tel Aviv. The sergeants—Clifford Martin and Mervin Paice—were abducted from in front of a Natanya cafe.

Tonight's deadline was the third the British have announced since the kidnapping occurred Saturday.

Search Houses
Reports circulated that Hagana-

Jewish national defense army, which is pledged to maintain order in the Holy Land during sessions of the United Nations Palestine committee—might rejoin the search. The organization withdrew from the hunt Saturday because of what it called "interference" by British troops.

Troops, searching from house to house in villages surrounding Natanya, were reported under orders to seek only the hostages and their captors and to ignore any discoveries of illegal arms or suspects not connected with the abduction.

Mayor Ben Ami of Natanya had been notified by Irgun that the two sergeants would not be turned loose unless Gen. Sir Alan Gordon Cum-

Brownsville, Pa., July 14 (AP)—Ronald Lee Blackwell, 14, of Brownsville, drowned Sunday as he plunged into the Monongahela river to rescue a lad who was floundering—but subsequently made his way to safety.
